

Hope for Heroism

Foundation for Rehabilitation of Wounded Soldiers

Hope for Heroism is a not for profit organization whose mission is to aid IDF soldiers who were injured in military operations or war (battles) during their military service.

As a result of first hand experience and the ability to understand the hardships of dealing with an injury and the many needs that accompany a critical injury , the Hope for Heroism Association was established in 2008.

The main objective of the organization is to help the injured combat soldier with the rehabilitation process that he will need to undergo. This includes both physical and mental rehabilitation in addition to the adaptation to the hardships that he will need to undergo in his altered life, his personal life as well as the lives of those that surround him.

The organization gives aid to the combat soldiers and their families, including: medical aid, legal aid, educational scholarships as well as an overall support system. The organization, therefore, guides and trains its members in the different types of rehabilitation the soldiers will need to undergo.

The organization puts an emphasis on social activities, which help and aids in the spiritual/mental improvement of the combat soldiers. These activities bring together different combat soldiers who share their experiences with on another, building camaraderie.

We believe that despite the experience the combat soldier has been exposed to, he is able to return to live a healthy and happy life even after the injury. It is these soldiers', who have given of their body and soul for the protection of the Homeland, right to continue to live their lives in honor.

The organization is run by combat officers who have experienced sever injuries, both bodily and mentally, in military operation during their service, and have undergone this rehabilitation procedure/process.
